

Volunteer role description

Volunteer position

Location

As an information and support volunteer you will help us to produce easily understandable, medically accurate and trustworthy information and support for people affected by blood cancer. We produce a wide range of patient information support and services, which are developed in collaboration with people affected by blood cancer and medical professionals.

About Blood Cancer UK

We are Blood Cancer UK, the largest UK blood cancer charity and the biggest dedicated funder of research into all types of blood cancer, we ensure everyone affected has access to high quality information and support and campaign for better treatments. We've been working to beat blood cancer for over 50 years and we won't stop until we do. Our investment in research has been fundamental to the UK developing a strong research base in blood cancers that is recognised for its quality around the world.

What's involved?

- Add the voice and input of someone affected by blood cancer to our patient information and new services by reviewing booklets, fact sheets and webpages
- Test our patient information and products in focus groups, surveys and workshops
- Working with our editors to create and share blogs and stories that support our audiences

What will I get out of it?

- Directly having a voice in the products and information we produce for people affected by blood cancer
- Contributing to a charitable cause and having an impact on the lives of people affected by blood cancer
- An opportunity to use your existing skill sets, while developing and learning new ones
- Flexible, work from home volunteering
- Blood Cancer UK core induction and training
- A reliable reference
- Reimbursement for out-of-pocket expenses

Skills and assets

- A direct experience with blood cancer (family member, patient, carer)
- Basic Microsoft word skills
- Good understanding of reading and writing English

How much time do I need to give?

This role can predominantly be done remotely and may vary based on the task or project. Typically, each task or project would 1-3 hours of your time.
